J. K. Hunson is no longer a political factor in this state. If Hudson's policy went out with him the people of the state would have cause to rejoice. But size the same money that hired Hudson can and no doubt has found some one else who will uphold the damnable docurine taught by him for years.

THERE a few business (?) men in this city who are so bigoted in policical matters that they will not advertise their business in the GAZETTE columns. They want your trade but rather than let a populist paper live they will not ask for it. On the other hand, the GAZETTE advertisers consists of men the populists of the county to have a weekly paper and all tnings being equal our readers should patronize them.

The GAZETTE favors the fourth of July as to date, and at Kansas City, Kansas City is in the central part of the Union and is an easy place to reach from any point. To pull the people offao Atlanta, Ga., or Dallas, Texas' is fully.

A Reno-county candidate for Sheriff who lacked only 1,100 votes of success started out to kill his neighbors who had not voted for him. Fortunately the first man he sought out had the nerve to stand him off and a bond to keep the peace sayed the balance of the community.

The above from the K. C. Star and re-published without comment by Tom Elbury, of the Turon Press shows how low down a man may become when elected on the court house ring ticket. The Star editor, of course, took it from the flash head article in the News which was written before Mr. Eisiminger was arrested, and hence is not to blame particularly, but Tom Elbery knew it was a lie and re-published the gang of thieves that have rode this county almost to death.

THE INITIATIVE AND REFEREN

In the GAZETTE of November 122, is reform elements in the election of 1896. This is what should be done; and the sooner we begin to work to this end the better.

The question is what can all reform elements unite upon? We know they feller give to the church, but they will cannot be united upon prohibition, or the free coinage of silver, or socialism. or the single tax. But it does seem possible, that since all reformers are law which would enable the people to bring to a vote of the people the particular reform they so much desire to see enacted; and also a law which would prevent legistors from enacting laws which the people do not desire with the iniliative and referendum. The initiative principal makes it easy for the people to bring a measure to a vote of the people, and the referendum makes it easy for the people to defeat | manifold blessings. anyolegislation of the representatives
